Robert,

I appreciate this very much and look forward to maximizing our relationship with you and EMC. A trusted advisor is exactly what I need at this point. There are many projects in transition and continuity will be a big part of the success. I cannot say that we will have any easing of cash flow in the near future. If I had a crystal ball, in fact, it would likely say that we will be in an even tighter situation in the months or year to come. But we have to start somewhere and build a practical future together. Thanks for this Robert.

Don
